KEY WEST WOMAN'S CLUB

PRESIDENT, AUNDREA WAGNER

November 2026 | A Tradition of Service

Happy November, Ladies!

What a great start to our season! It has been so nice seeing everyone again, and here we are already in November!

Our theme this month is A Tradition of Service, and that's exactly what the Key West Woman's Club has been about since 1915. For 111 years, the women of this Club have been giving their time, talents, and resources to make our little island a better place. I'm so proud to be part of that tradition and even prouder of the women who continue it today.

At our general meeting on November 4 at noon, we'll be presenting donations to eight local organizations. This is what it's all about, ladies!!! All the events, fundraisers, and hours spent volunteering throughout the year make it possible for us to give back to the community we love. And we couldn't do it without you. Thank you!

And don't forget to wear your red, white, or blue to our November meeting in honor of Veterans Day!

And WOW, what a Fantasy Fest! I think we may all need a vacation after partying like rock stars at STUDIO 319! What a weekend! You ladies really outdid yourselves! The Monkey Punch was a hit, the costumes were fabulous, and our parade viewing party was one for the books. Eleanor even took home an Encore Award for her Fantasy Fest façade!

To everyone who showed up for a shift, brought a friend or husband, or helped behind the scenes, thank you! A whole lot of time and work went into making this happen, and I appreciate it so much! One thing's for sure, the KWWC sisters totally rocked Fantasy Fest 2026!!

November is also a time to recognize some very special people. We'll be celebrating our wonderful volunteer docents, who give so much of their time to keep Eleanor's doors open and share her history with visitors from all over the world. These ladies and men are such an important part of our Club, and I can't thank them enough for all they do. And with Veterans Day this month, we also take time to honor and thank the men and women who have served our country on November 11 at our annual cookout and parade viewing party. Our Welcome Back Italian Evening is November 21, and if you haven't signed up yet, don't wait! Space is limited, and each member is welcome to bring one guest. This is our way of saying thank you to our membership, and thanks to the generosity of Linda and Mike Tuffey, we're able to make it a special evening for everyone. I hope to see lots of you there!
And before we know it, the Christmas decorations will be going up on Monday November 16th and Eleanor will be getting all dressed up and ready for the holidays.

I've also been thinking about our Club's original historic motto, Qui Non Proficit Deficit, which means "He who does not progress falls behind." I love that more than a century ago, the women of our Club believed in the importance of moving forward. And look at us today! We're still learning, growing, and finding new ways to make a difference while honoring the traditions and history that make our Club so special.
I hope you all know how grateful I am for each of you. It's the friendships, generosity, and willingness to pitch in that make this Club what it is. Being your president is truly a pleasure, and I couldn't ask for a better group of women to share this journey with.

with Gratitude ,
Aundrea

Spreading Sunshine

This November's Community Impact

At the Key West Woman's Club, spreading sunshine is more than a phrase—it is what we have been doing since 1915. Through donations, volunteer service, and community partnerships, we proudly support local nonprofits, schools, and organizations that make Key West a better place.

Our Restaurant & Theatre Tour Card sales, now in its 21st year, are our largest source of fundraising income and make much of this charitable giving possible. Every card sold helps us put more money directly back into our community and continue our 111-year tradition of women helping others.

Habitat for Humanity of the Lower Keys, an organization helping local families build stronger, safer homes. Habitat provides affordable housing opportunities and works alongside volunteers to create lasting change in our community.

Domestic Abuse Shelter, a nonprofit providing safety, support, and resources for individuals and families affected by domestic violence. Their programs include emergency shelter, advocacy, counseling, and services to help families build brighter, more secure futures.

Coast Guard Families, an organization that supports the men, women, and families of the U.S. Coast Guard in the Florida Keys through assistance, community programs, and resources that strengthen and uplift military families.

Key West Community Sailing Center, a local nonprofit that offers hands-on water-based education programs for youth and adults. Their mission is to build confidence, leadership skills, and a lifelong love of the ocean through sailing.

Kids Come First, a nonprofit dedicated to preventing child abuse and neglect through education, advocacy, and family support programs. They work to create safer, healthier futures for all Monroe County children.

Dr. José C. Sanchez Lions Eye Clinic, a local nonprofit providing quality eye care and glasses to children and adults in Monroe County who cannot otherwise afford these services.

Grieving Families of Youth Violence, Inc., a nonprofit that supports families who have lost a child to violence. Through peer support, resources, and community initiatives, they help families find hope and healing.

William Weech American Legion Post 168, a local organization that supports veterans, active-duty military, and their families through community service, outreach, and programs that honor and preserve their legacy.

CELEBRATING OUR HISTORY

KEY WEST WOMAN'S CLUB

A Clubhouse, a Community, and a World at War

How Our Club Served Key West in the 1940s

As the nation entered World War II, the Key West Woman's Club once again answered the call to serve.

From our home at 319 Duval Street, Club members supported the war effort in many practical ways. The building provided space for the Key West Chapter of the American Red Cross, including sewing rooms where volunteers created garments and supplies for service members and those in need.

Members also assisted the federal government with defense-housing surveys, helping to identify housing for the growing number of military personnel and their families coming to Key West.

During these years, our Clubhouse served multiple purposes — a public library, meeting rooms, apartments, and a center for vital community service.

This period reminds us of the resourcefulness and commitment of our members, who met the challenges of their time with purpose, generosity, and community spirit.

Their example reminds us that service has always been at the heart of the Key West Woman's Club.

Key West Chapter of the American Red Cross gathered outside the Key West Woman's Club at 319 Duval Street, circa 1940s.

OUR COMMUNITY SERVICE IN THE 1940s

- ★ Provided space for the Key West Chapter of the American Red Cross, including sewing rooms
- ★ Assisted with federal defense-housing surveys
- ★ Served as a public library, with meeting rooms and apartments
- ★ Supported the growing military community in Key West
- ★ Continued a proud tradition of hands-on service when our community needed it most

OUR LEGACY

The women of the 1940s showed that the Key West Woman's Club was more than a social club — it was a vital part of the community, ready to serve in times of change and challenge.

What We're Thankful For This Month

Take a quick look at your to do list right now. If it looks anything like mine, it's probably a masterclass in multitasking.

As women, we are often the chief operating officers of our daily lives, moving so fast that our days blur into a cycle of finishing one task just to rush to the next. In the middle of this beautiful, chaotic rush, it is incredibly easy to fall into the trap of looking for what is missing, what went wrong, or what still needs to be done. But what if we paused? What if we gave ourselves permission to trade the pressure of doing for the practice of noticing?

Gratitude is often treated like a polite obligation or a seasonal trend we practice once a year. But true gratitude is much more fierce and transformative than that. It is a intentional choice to shift our focus from what our lives lack to the abundance that is already present. When we practice gratitude, we aren't ignoring our challenges, minimizing our exhaustion, or pretending everything is perfect. Instead, we are making a radical decision to look at our lives through a lens of appreciation. We are declaring that despite the stress, there is still goodness to be found.

When a woman leans into gratitude, she changes the energy. Consistent gratitude practice lowers stress hormones, improves sleep, and boosts immune function. But the emotional benefits are even more profound:

• It silences comparison. It is impossible to envy someone else's highlight reel when you are deeply in love with the quiet, messy realities of your own life.

• It deepens connection. Expressing genuine appreciation to the women around us strengthens our community bonds.

• It anchors us in the present. It rescues us from worrying about the future or regretting the past, grounding us in the only moment we actually have.

You don't need hours of silence or a perfect meditation room to cultivate this. Gratitude fits into the cracks of a busy life. Before your feet even hit the floor or your hand reaches for your phone, think of three specific things you are glad to wake up to. In the rush of afternoon emails or errands, pause for one deep breath and find one beautiful thing in your immediate surroundings; For example, the warmth of your coffee mug, the sunlight through a window, or a text from a friend. Before closing your eyes at night, replay your day like a movie and pinpoint the single best moment, no matter how small it seemed!!

Attitude in Gratitude,

MARKETING NEWS

Dr. Marlene Thorn
VIce President

The Marketing Committee had an excellent meeting led by our President Aundrea, while I was on vacation. Aundrea and the group completed plans for October and discussed many new ideas.

A short summary of Fall Events include:

Fantasy Fest Parade Viewing Evening, Oct. 24: The Fantasy Fest Viewing Parade was fantastic. Great work, President Aundrea, Kathy Hemmesch, Barbara McShea, Dee Johnson and the entire Team who made this a huge success.

Museum Community Appreciation Reception, Nov 5: This is our fourth year hosting this reception. Representatives from area museums, attractions, docents and others have the opportunity to briefly share what is happening at their organizations and meet and network with each other. This is a free event by invitation only. Invitations have been sent out to 40 organizations and individuals. This event has helped put the Hellings Curry Museum on the "map" and has provided cross referrals of visitors to other Museums and Attractions. We have received 73 RSVP's! Thank you to Demetria Danielides, who is coordinating this Event with me.
The Holiday Marketis Dec 5th from 11am to 6pm and Holiday Community Open House, is scheduled for Dec 6, 4:30 to 6:30 pm. Mark your calendars and volunteer for these events. Historic Tours of America is sponsoring the Holiday Open House again this year. Thank you HTA.

Sponsorships, Business Memberships and Restaurant Cards: Patty Neyra has been hard at work renewing and getting new Business Memberships for the Hellings Curry Museum. See her article. She has also landed Sponsorships for the Bougie Tea and the Holiday Open House. Business Members will be invited to purchase Restaurant Cards for their Holiday/Christmas Gifts for their employees. This opens up a whole new opportunity to market our Restaurant Cards that generates so much for us to give back to the Community.

Other Items Supported by the Marketing Committee and Aundrea include:
Continue using "Women Get Things Done"!
Design and order KWWC Volunteer Shirts to wear while participating in Community Service Projects to make the KWWC easily recognizable as we are volunteering throughout the Community.

They are: House Security, Event Leaders and Committee Members, Housekeeping, and Parking. Please review these Guidelines. Keep our House Secure, Organized and Clean, abide by the Parking and Event Leaders Guideline

Historic Tours of America Helps Make the Holidays Shine

A heartfelt thank you to Historic Tours of America for returning as the Platinum Sponsor of the Key West Woman's Club Holiday Open House! We are deeply grateful to Chris Belland and Ed Swift for their continued generosity and for sharing their holiday spirit with our Club and community.

With roots in the restoration of historic buildings in the early 1970s, Historic Tours of America has a special connection to Key West's heritage. The company grew from those local beginnings into a nationally recognized tourism business, sharing the stories of America's historic cities through its tours and attractions. Their appreciation for history makes their support especially meaningful to our Club and our historic home.

This year's Holiday Open House & Tree Lighting will take place on Sunday, December 6, 2026, from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. Free and open to the public, this family-friendly celebration will feature live music, visits with Santa and Mrs. Claus, holiday activities, and the tree lighting by HTA's Director of Operations Clinton Curry. It's a wonderful opportunity to gather with friends and neighbors and welcome the season together.

Please join us in thanking Historic Tours of America, Chris Belland, and Ed Swift for helping bring this special celebration to life. Their continued support reflects the generosity and community spirit that make Key West such a wonderful place to call home.

MUSEUM HAPPENINGS

The docents have hit the ground running and have been sharing the story of Eleanor and Martin with many visitors. The house looks picture perfect, so it is easy to show off. However, we need more docents. If you like to tell stories, love history and/or architecture, we need you. A new training will take place in November, so it is a great time to start. After the initial training, you shadow a docent until you feel comfortable doing your own tour. It is also a fun way to get to know fellow members while sitting on the beautiful front porch and easily fulfilling your 10 hour volunteer obligation. A sign-up sheet will be available at the November meeting and on the back table in the Butler's Pantry. Hope to see you soon.
